

Cornice Nr. 151 “Small Albert”

(Victorian in Style)

Another popular profile, this particular pattern is a modern design in the Victorian Style. Two features especially mark this so, the central cove portion is so very much of that mid to late period, secondly the proportions, comparatively large projection (onto the ceiling) against it's small depth down the wall.

A possibly helpful feature here to cornice buyers and installers is the long length at 3.500 metres this design is supplied in. This could help to reduce numbers of joints and possibly quantities of castings required.

This “average sized” design has been fixed into scores and scores of homes and commercial properties, some with relatively low ceilings. Should you want a slightly larger, similar design, think about Nr. 134 “Albert”
